Presentation: The Pentagon Papers Trials, 1971

On June 13, 1971, the New York Times published the first news article containing classified information and documents from the 7000 page top secret study of U. S. History of decision making in Vietnam, 1945-68. We know this study as "The Pentagon Papers". Subsequent articles were published both by the Times and the Washington Post. Litigation followed in both New York and D. C. Federal Courts on whether prior restraint was constitutionally permitted to protect national security. The Supreme Court took Certiorari in both cases and issued its decision on June 30, 1971, less than three weeks from the first publication.
