Earliest date of admission to practice?* _____

* Candidates should be admitted to the bar for at least two years, but not more than seven years, as of the date of application. The committee welcomes applicants outside this range but the scholarship is awarded to lawyers in the early stages of their careers and most successful candidates have at least two full years of post-admission experience.

What are your current areas of practice?

Which practice areas, courts, and legal system experiences are you most interested in if you are selected as a scholar?

What non-practice area experiences—law related or otherwise—are you most interested in if you are selected as a scholar?
